President Lloyd's Page

Dear Fellow Alumni:

It is as president of the College that I am asked to write this page; but it is inescapable that I should write as an alumnus of the College also. Both of these relationships influence my interest in the developments of these days and in sharing with other interested alumni current news about the College. Various articles elsewhere in this issue of the Alumni Magazine contain considerable such news and I need not retell it in detail here. But I am prompted to summarize and comment on several important recent events.

Revised Physical Training Requirements

In view of the increased national emphasis on physical fitness we increased last fall the graduation requirements in Physical Education from four to eight semesters. For this spring semester we adopted in general the Army-Navy requirements, increasing the weekly schedule from two to five hours for men and from two to three hours for women with additional electives for women. There are "conditioning" exercises given to large groups and intramural sports have a larger place than ever before at Maryville. For lack of time and transportation intercollegiate sports have been much curtailed. All of this represents adjustment to war-time conditions and tasks.

Men Leave College for Military Service

Hundreds of Maryville alumni and other former students have been entering the armed forces. Some students enlisted or were inducted last year, but this year the number has increased rapidly even though students of the enlisted reserves attending Maryville have had an advantage this winter over those at most colleges because of the closing of our first semester in December and the ruling that most of those in the reserves would be allowed to remain until the end of the next semester in May. Yet a large number of men have gone into military service or some related training. We had 336 men students two years ago this month, 287 one year ago, and 250 the first semester of this year, but there are only 152 men students actually on the campus now, making the loss of men in the two years 184 or 55%. With the draft age at 18, most occupational and educational deferments being cancelled, and the enlisted reserves being called, there cannot possibly be many boys in any college next fall.

The Chapel still appears well filled each morning, and our three womens' dormitories are full, but there is not the usual overflow and there are fewer women students than usual from the town. Unprecedented opportunities for employment are reducing sharply and will doubtless continue to reduce the number of girls applying for admission to colleges. There were 425 women students at Maryville College two years ago this month, 416 one year ago, 389 the first semester this year, and 360 as this is written; this represents a decrease of 65 women (15%) in two years.

During this year three of our faculty men have gone to the armed forces: John A. Davis, Assistant Professor of Physical Education, in December; Archie F. Pieper, Assistant Professor of Political Science, in January; and Frank D. McClelland, Dean of Students, in March. The loss of these and George F. Fischbach, Assistant Professor of Physical Education, and Mary Rachel Armstrong, Assistant Professor of Home Economics, who took other positions, has increased the tasks of those who remain, but the general program is going well and hopefully.

THE ARMY AIR FORCES COME TO COLLEGE

On February 5 the War Manpower Commission released to the press a list of institutions which had been approved for the training programs of the Army, Navy, or Marine Corps. Maryville College was one of those designated for the Army Air Forces College Training (Preflight) Program. Events moved rapidly and the first contingent of soldiers arrived on the campus during the first week of March. There are now several hundred men (Army rules forbid publication of numbers) in uniform, under rigid discipline, commanded and given military training by Army Air Forces officers. The College has entered into a contract with the Government to provide housing, meals, medical care, and physical training, and to give instruction in seven prescribed subjects.

Thus comes a new experience in Maryville College history, the brief and limited S. A. T. C. program of World War I not being comparable to the present plan. And instead of a falling off in population at the College, every possible space into which a bed can well be put, including two gymnasium floors in Bartlett, is filled. With the full College program and the new Army Air Forces College Training Program going forward side by side, life and work on the Maryville College campus are interesting and vigorous even though a little complicated and accompanied by some new problems.

We sincerely hope that as our thoughts and prayers follow Maryville Alumni into civilian and military life all around the world, so their thoughts and prayers will follow these war-time educational tasks on the College Campus at Maryville.

NEW TEACHERS FOR ARMY PROGRAM

It has been necessary to engage several additional teachers for full time or part time to handle classes in the Army Air Forces instruction program.

Ben W. Chambers, graduated at Maryville College in 1931 and recently has been Principal of the Walland, Tennessee, High School. He came to the College March 1 as a full-time teacher of Physics. Another full schedule of Physics classes has been handled since April 1 by Arthur S. Bushing of the Class of 1943, who is president of the Senior Class and will be enrolled in classes until he receives his degree.

Medical Aid classes (based on the First Aid course of the Red Cross) have been taught since March 1 two nights each week by Mrs. Queener of the Maryville faculty, and four men of the staff of the Alumni Company of America: Andrew L. Alexander, '34, Harry Blankenship, 'Ex. '28, Allen A. Surratt, and Ned J. Tucker.

Guy W. Sneed, '24, Principal of the Alcoa High School, is assisting Coach Honaker each afternoon in the Physical Training program.

ARMY PROGRAM AT MARYVILLE

On an earlier page in this issue reference is made to the establishment of the Army Air Forces College Training Program at Maryville College. The officers and non-commissioned staff came in the latter part of February and the first contingent of men soon after the first of March.

The College has nothing to do with selection of the men sent here for training. The number to fill the quota are sent by the Army and placed in charge of the commanding officer and his staff assigned here. Before assignment to the College the men have been in the Army at least long enough to be "processed," are outfitted and in uniform, and are on army pay. They are not "aviation cadets," who form a special classification in training for "wings" and commissions, but are privates in the Air Corps who have been accepted as candidates for appointment as aviation cadets. The trainees here at the College are sometimes called "air crew students," although there does not yet seem to be a generally used name for them.

Their quarters (now in half of Carnegie Hall and all of Bartlett), meals (now in the Alumni Addition of Pearsons Dining Hall), and classes are separate. They march in formation to all meals, classes, and other appointments, spend the evenings in supervised study in Anderson Hall classrooms, go to bed early at night and get up early in the morning. They do not leave the campus except at weekends. After arrival they spent the first weeks in quarantine but are now having opportunity to associate some with our students at off hours which, however, are not many.

The instructional program conducted by Maryville faculty includes classes in Physics, Mathematics, English, History, Geography, Civil Air Regulations, and Medical Aid. The training period is designed in general on a five months' plan. A limited amount of instruction in flying is given each man by the Government at the Airport during the latter part of the training period.

The present commanding officer of the Training Detachment at Maryville College is 1st Lieutenant Donald B. Ladd, a young man six feet and five inches tall, from Niagara Falls, N. Y., a graduate of Michigan State College. He and the officers with him are men of high personal standards and have won the genuine respect of Maryville faculty and students.

SUMMER ON THE CAMPUS

The Maryville College campus is due for the most active summer of its history, as may be seen from the following schedule:

Army Air Forces College Training Program will proceed continuously

College Summer Session—June 1 to August 20

Synod-Synodical of Mid-South—June 22-24

Senior Young People's Conference for the Presbyteries of Union and Chattanooga — July 5-10

Intermediate Camp for the Presbyteries of Union and Chattanooga—July 19-24

It will not be easy to handle the Synod and Young People's Conference and Camp, but it can be done successfully and the College wishes to render this service to the Church.

COMMENCEMENT

The Commencement program for this year is planned on approximately the same schedule as that of last year. The calendar is given elsewhere. How many visitors can come is not known but it is hoped that many may be present in spite of traveling difficulties. A considerable number of out-of-state people visit the army students now on the campus.

There will be one marked difference in the roster of graduates, due to the accelerated program. There were 36 seniors who completed their graduation requirements at the end of the Fall semester, reducing that much the number to participate in the graduation exercises May 17. However, they are counted as part of the Class of 1943, as well as those who complete their course at the end of the coming Summer Session.

RECENT FACULTY LOSSES

Dr. Frank D. McClelland, ex-'18, Dean of Students since 1937, left the College on leave of absence March 15 to enter the military service. He was an officer in the Marines during World War I, and was decorated for gallantry on the Western Front. He has now been commissioned a captain in the Marine Corps and assigned to important duties at Marine Headquarters in Washington, D. C. Mrs. McClelland and their two sons continue to make their home in Maryville.

Archibald F. Pieper, '36, Assistant Professor of Political Science at Maryville College since 1939, left at the end of the first semester to enter the Marine Corps as a candidate for officers training and is now at Quantico, Virginia. Mrs. Pieper (Mary Gladys Brown, '36) has a position with the TVA and is living at Norris, Tennessee.

John A. Davis ("J. D."), '30, Assistant Professor of Physical Education and Assistant Coach at Maryville College since 1940, left at the end of the first semester to enter the Army, and since that time has been at Camp Phillips, Kansas. He is at present on special duty as one of the directors of athletics in the camp.

Mary Rachel Armstrong, Assistant Professor of Home Economics since 1934, left March 1 to accept a position as Nutritionist at the Wolf Creek Ordnance Plant of the Procter and Gamble Defense Corporation at Milan, Tennessee.

LIVING ENDOWMENT

To date the response of alumni to the bulletin sent out by the Association on the Living Endowment is gratifying. If pledges and contributions continue to come into the Alumni Office as they have during the first ten days after the bulletin was mailed, the Association will have an interesting and heartening report for the October issue of the Magazine.

Pledges have ranged from five to fifty dollars a year, some being for five years and some for an indefinite period. Contributions have been received in the form of War Stamps and Bonds, money orders, and checks. It is hoped that many others will yet be heard from and that many War Savings Stamp books are now being filled for ultimate mailing to the Alumni Office.

THE PRESBYTERIAN GENERAL ASSEMBLY

The 155th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A. will meet in Detroit on Thursday, May 27, and the days following. All Presbyteries have been asked by the General Council to elect only one half the constitutional number of commissioners and will undoubtedly comply with this request. In that case the General Assembly will be only half its usual size, with approximately 450 commissioners.

This will mean fewer Maryville College alumni present, and since Detroit is not in a very thickly populated Maryville alumni area and this is a difficult travel year, there will hardly be a normal number of visitors.

Plans are being made, however, for a Maryville Breakfast somewhere in Detroit on either Friday or Saturday morning of the Assembly. Two years ago at St. Louis there was a large crowd at the Maryville Breakfast. A year ago in Milwaukee the number was comparatively small but the "quality" was good. This year the number is sure to be limited, but there are Maryville alumni at every Assembly and they like to get together.

All are asked to watch for posters and any other announcements. President Lloyd of the College will be at the Assembly as Chairman of the Department of Church Cooperation and Union for which he will be making the annual reports to the Assembly. He hopes alumni and also parents of Maryville students will look him up.

BENEFIT LUNCHEON AND APRON SALE SUCCESSFUL

In the October issue of the Alumni Magazine announcement was made of the Second Annual Benefit Luncheon and Apron Sale, to be held at the College on December 5, 1942. It proved to be a great success in spite of the fact that it came the very first week of gasoline rationing in Tennessee and on the day of a heavy snow storm.

There were 134 women at the luncheon, from which the gross income was $107; there were about 150 aprons donated and sold for $87.70; gifts of money totaled $185.19. Thus the gross income was $379.89. The expenses were: to Dining Hall for luncheon $82.64; for printing, mailing, and decorations $29.20; total expenses, $111.89. Thus the net amount realized for the Dormitory Improvement Fund was $268, as compared with $206.26 realized the year before.

Due to conditions this year there were fewer at the luncheon than last year, but more responded by sending aprons and gifts of money. This increased interest is cause for appreciation on the part of the committee in charge and of the College.

The money of last year was used toward the new bathroom on the first floor of Baldwin Hall. As all know, it is impossible to purchase plumbing fixtures now for further improvement. Therefore, the $268 has been deposited with the Treasurer of Maryville College subject to order of the committee, made up of a number of alumnae and friends of the College, when conditions permit work to proceed.

RETIREMENT OF LIBRARIAN ELLIS

PROFESSOR ELLIS

President Lloyd has announced that Librarian Horace L. Ellis has asked to be permitted to retire from active service at the close of the present college year, May 17, since he was seventy years old last November 20.

Mr. Ellis, or "Professor Ellis" as he is generally called by those who knew him through the many years he was a professor, will be greatly missed from the College from which he was graduated in 1898 and to which he has given 31 years of service.

After his graduation in 1898, Mr. Ellis taught in the Preparatory Department for two years, taught in other institutions 14 years, came back to Maryville College in 1914 as Principal of the large Preparatory Department and Professor of Education, and became College Librarian after the closing of the Preparatory Department in 1925. He returned to Maryville from Carson-Newman College where he had been Professor of Latin seven years, during three of which he was also Dean and during one of which he was Treasurer.

Mr. Ellis has been in educational work 47 years, and at Maryville College 31 of those years. He is now to make his year-round home at Burrville, Tennessee, where he has long had his summer home.

DR. WILSON'S EIGHTY-FIFTH BIRTHDAY

President Emeritus

Dr. Wilson was 85 years old on February 17, 1943. He is more surprised than anybody that he has lived so long. He is up and around each day, but has not been able for some time to leave his home or to do any work. After he retired from the presidency of the College in 1930 he did some very valuable writing for a number of years but gradually came to the place where he could no longer write or carry on his accustomed study or interests. He makes his home on Indiana Avenue, Maryville, with his daughter Olive and her family.

OTHER NOTABLE BIRTHDAYS

Mrs. John Walker, who has made her home at "Morningside" in the College Woods for over ten years, celebrated her ninety-first birthday on April 9. Many friends greeted her and the College Choir went to her home for a surprise informal concert. She was in excellent health and spirits.

Rev. Dr. William Patton Stevenson, College Pastor Emeritus, was eighty-two on December 24, believe it or not. He no longer plays golf because of a lame shoulder, but he drives his car as always, preaches occasionally, keeps the Woods in order, reads much, and is the same gracious and cheerful companion whom Maryville students of the past quarter of a century have known.

Miss "Molly" Caldwell, Dean of Women Emeritus, will be eighty on September 11 of this year. She lives at her home, 213 Miller Street, Maryville. While not able to leave home very often, she attends church and some of the services at the College Chapel, greets her friends who call.

He saw Ernest Coldwell, '35, in London just before they left for North Africa. "Les" is in a tank destroyer battalion. He says their main occupation now is trading with the Arab natives. ALUMNI DUES

The Alumni Office would like to have an expression from members of the Association concerning the dues notices recently mailed. Is this new style envelope a help in the payment of alumni dues?

With money so plentiful this is the year to double the number paying dues and to begin to provide for expansion of the program.

The one cent postage on this year's dues notices will be paid by Atlantic Monthly for the privilege of enclosing their magazine advertisement. The Association will receive a commission on each subscription handled by the Alumni Office.

DEATHS AMONG ALUMNI AND FORMER STUDENTS

Rev. Silas Edward Henry, D.D., Class of 1883, died February 2, 1943, at the Methodist Hospital, Indianapolis, Indiana, at the age of 75. He was born in East Tennessee, was graduated at Maryville College and Union Theological Seminary, New York, and served many years as a pastor in Missouri and elsewhere. In recent years he has lived in or near Indianapolis and is survived there by two daughters. In 1938, the fiftieth anniversary of his graduation, Maryville College conferred upon him the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity.

Rev. Robert Andrew Parham, Class of 1894, died at his home in Knoxville, Tennessee, on January 5, 1943, at the age of 76. Upon graduation from Maryville College he was associated for a time with his father and brothers in the Riverside Woolen Mills, Knoxville, later entering the Methodist ministry. He served pastorates in Scott and Knox counties, his last pastorate being one in South Knoxville from which he retired to the home where he died.

Minerva Isabel Freeman, Class of 1897, died at Dover, New Jersey, on October 5, 1942. She was one of the first women of Dover to attend college and after her graduation became a teacher in the public schools there. At the time of her death she was the oldest teacher in point of service in the Dover schools, having taught Latin there for forty-five years.

Major General Hugh Matthews, Ex. '03, died April 9, 1943, at the U. S. Naval Hospital, Bethesda, Maryland, at the age of 67. General Matthews was a native of Loudon County, Tennessee, and both he and his brother, Brigadier General Calvin B. Matthews, who died in 1939, attended Maryville College but did not graduate, leaving college to enter the Army. General Hugh Matthews has served in many parts of the world, received various decorations for his service in World War I, and was Quartermaster General of the U. S. Marine Corps for eight years. In 1937 he reached the compulsory retirement age and he and Mrs. Matthews came back to Tennessee and established their home near Loudon, not far from Maryville. He gave an address in Voorhees Chapel in November this year. Other members of Gen. Matthews' family who attended school at Maryville College are Stephen Mitchell, Sue Marie (Mrs. Simpson) who died at the Loudon home on April 15, 1943, Winifred, and Roy Lafayette.

Arthur Roll McCammon, Ex. '05, died at his home in Maryville on April 9, 1943. He had been a prominent business man in Maryville and was mayor of the city for 10 years before his retirement in 1939. His daughter, Jean (now Mrs. Ernest Koella, Jr.), is a member of the Class of 1941, and his son, A. R. McCammon, Jr., attended Maryville College.

Andrew E. McCulloch, Ex. '08, died February 28, 1943, at his home in Maryville. His jewelry store has been a leading business house in Maryville for over a third of a century, Mr. McCulloch, at his death, being the senior business man on Maryville's Main Street. He was active in the New Providence Presbyterian Church and the Masonic Lodge. Mrs. McCulloch (Freddie Goddard) is a member of the Class of 1904. His daughter, Eleanor, who died in November, 1941, and his sons, S. Lloyd and Albert F., attended Maryville College.

Nannie Maness, Class of 1909, died in Sebring, Florida, on February 21, 1943. She was with the Salvation Army for many years until her retirement because of the failure of her health. Since that time she has lived in Sebring where many men and women on the retired list of the Salvation Army make their homes.

Chaplain (Colonel) Frank Lewis Miller, of the Class of 1914, was killed in the recent plane crash in Iceland in which Lieut. General Frank M. Andrews, Bishop Adna W. Leonard of the Methodist Church, and eleven others also were killed.

After his graduation from Maryville in 1914, Chaplain Miller entered Princeton Theological Seminary, graduating in 1917. In 1925 he attended the Chaplains' School at Fort Leavenworth and in 1927-1928 Columbia University, receiving there the M.A. degree. He served as a chaplain during the first World War and in 1920, after two years in the pastorate, became a chaplain in the Regular Army. Since 1940 he had been Chief of the Plans and Training Division in the Office of the Chief of Chaplains, in Washington. He became a colonel in February, 1942. Last May Maryville College awarded him the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity. At that time, General Arnold, Chief of Chaplains, wrote that "his ability, character, and record of accomplishment make him highly worthy of the honor you propose to confer upon him." Others wrote: "Besides conducting the usual religious exercises he was the friend, brother, and advisor of the Command. In time of trouble he was always first on the scene. . . He has risen rapidly and is outstanding among the intellectual leaders of his branch of the United States Army." "Colonel Miller has written himself into the lives of men the world over to their everlasting benefit." Those who attended Commencement will remember him as the speaker at the Commencement Vespers.

Chaplain Miller is survived by his wife and three children; one son, Frank Lewis Miller, III, attended Maryville College for two and a half years, 1940-1943, and is now at the George Washington University School of Medicine.

THE FEBRUARY MEETINGS

The sixty-seventh series of February Meetings, held February 3-11, 1943, proved to be the channel of great blessing to the College as so many series have been before. The established plan and schedule were followed, with no curtailment because of the War. There were two services a day in the Chapel for nine days, with large attendance both morning and night. The private conference schedule was filled. Several forums held after the evening services were crowded.

The preacher, Rev. Dr. William M. Elliott, Jr., of Atlanta, was a most effective leader, his preaching being of the highest order. Students, faculty, and visitors heard him with enthusiasm and spiritual profit. Rev. Dr. Sidney E. Stringham, of St. Louis, leading the singing for the twenty-first year, added greatly to the services as always.

EASTER SUNRISE SERVICE

For the sixth successive year an Easter service was held at sunrise in the College Woods amphitheatre. The morning was a beautiful one and a large crowd on the hillside took part in the impressive service with the President, Dr. Lloyd, the College Pastor Emeritus, Dr. Stevenson, the Choir Director, Mr. Vine, and the Choir, who in robes were at the foot of a great white cross built on the grass covered stage of the Amphitheatre. The sun came up over the Great Smoky Mountains beyond the cross during the service.

But the program had begun two hours before sunrise. A group of girls from the Home Economics department arrived at the President's House at 3:45 a.m. to help in the serving of rolls, coffee, and orange juice to the band, choir, faculty, and guests who arrived at 4:00, 4:45, and 5:00 o'clock respectively. At 4:30 the band began its playing, first several trumpets from the Anderson bell tower, then the whole band at the center of the campus and finally groups of the band at points along the way to the Amphitheatre as hundreds of people walked or rode into the Woods. This Sunrise Service is one of the more recently established but one of the most impressive programs of each Maryville College year.

PAINTING OF THE LIBRARY

One of the most satisfying improvements made at the College during recent years was the painting of the interior of the spacious Library in Thaw Hall. The work was done under "Brownie's" supervision during the extended Christmas vacation this year.

The walls and columns of the large main reading room and the walls of the front stack room and of the three lobbies are a mural gray, a color just a shade off cream. The ceilings and beams of the main room are ivory. The whole impression is one of strong, clean beauty.

This was a needed improvement because the interior of the Library had never been painted. When the building was erected in 1920-1921 the walls were smooth white plaster and painting was not immediately necessary. But during more than twenty years many discolorations from radiators and general use had appeared and detracted from an otherwise impressive interior. The great size (the reading room is 170 feet long, 66 feet deep, and 20 feet high) and the fact that its painting was not absolutely essential had postponed its redecoration.

A large proportion of the money with which the work has now been done came through sale of the historical map made by Nathalia Wright, '33, which was described on page ten of the October issue of the Alumni Magazine. Miss Wright, who is Assistant in the Library, and Miss Grierson, Assistant Librarian, both did a great deal of work distributing the maps and generously advanced the money for those yet to be sold. (Alumni may order maps through the Alumni Office for fifty cents.) The College received from them $450 to apply on the total painting expense of $684.

THE SUMMER SESSION

For the second consecutive year Maryville College has announced a Summer Session. It is part of the Accelerated Program in which a student may take his full college course in an actual time of two years and eight months if he attends continuously except for brief vacations before and after Summer Sessions and at Christmas.

The 1943 Summer Session, like that of last year, will be divided into two terms of six weeks each. Each course taken is completed in six weeks, classes meeting daily and for extended periods. A full semester of credit is given for each such course. Normally a student can take two courses each six-weeks term.

The dates set are: First term, June 1 to July 10; second term, July 12 to August 20.

A student may attend either term or both terms.

RADIO BROADCASTS

After an absence of several months Maryville College is "on the air" again until after Commencement. Each Sunday afternoon from 4:30 to 4:55 p.m., over Station WROL of Knoxville (Dial 620), there is the Maryville College Radio Vespers conducted by President Ralph W. Lloyd and the college choir of fifty voices under the direction of Assistant Professor Richard W. Vine. These programs are under the supervision of James R. Smith, Alumni and Public Relations Secretary.

SPEAKERS AT THE COLLEGE

Each Wednesday morning at the Chapel service and each Sunday evening at Vespers there is an address or sermon, and of course there are other addresses in the many group meetings during a college year. ALPHA GAMMA SIGMA HONOR SCHOLARSHIP SOCIETY

The election of seniors of the Class of 1943 to the Scholarship Honor Society reflects the accelerated program. From the group of thirty-six graduating in December four were elected to membership and recently from the group of approximately eighty May graduates six were elected. There is still a possibility that one or two might be chosen from the group graduating in August.

The December group were Carl Alette of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, a Music major, now in the army, who transferred after his junior college course at Girard College; Irma H. Criswell, of Miami, Florida, an Economics major, who since graduation has been working as assistant in the Personnel Office of the College; Frances E. Sisk, of Maryville, a French major, daughter of Dr. Augustus Sisk of the Mathematics department, now employed at the Alcoa Plant of the Aluminum Company of America; and Evelyn A. Williams, of Maryville, a History major, now in the Office of the Chief of the Signal Corps, Washington, D. C.

The six members of the May graduating group are Jean Barnes, of Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania, a Psychology major, and in her senior year Editor-in-Chief of the Highland Echo; Clyde R. Brown, of East Waterford, Pennsylvania, a History major, and retiring President of the Y.M.C.A.; Sidney W. Duke, of Arlington, Texas, a Chemistry major, now entered at the School of Medicine of Northwestern University, in Chicago; Josephine Gillette, of Vineland, New Jersey, a Mathematics major; Marjorie Guggen, of Dunmore, Pennsylvania, a Chemistry major, who did her first two years of college work at Marywood College, Scranton, Pennsylvania; and Jean Patterson, of Orangeville, Pennsylvania, an English major, this year President of the Y.W.C.A.

The Recognition Ceremony was held at the regular chapel hour on Wednesday, April 27. The speaker was President Everett Derryberry, of Tennessee Polytechnic Institute, Cookeville, a former star athlete and honors student of the University of Tennessee, and for three and a half years a student at Oxford University as Rhodes Scholar from Tennessee.

Also there should be mentioned here that at the November meeting of the Society Jackson C. Kramer, a member of the Class of 1942, graduating last August, was elected to membership. Jack is a native of Maryville, a Political Science major, and is now in training as a Photographic Laboratory Commander in the Ground Crew of the Army Air Corps at Boca Raton, Florida.

THE ATHLETIC PROGRAM

The pressure of the accelerated and military programs, the difficulties of travel, and the steady withdrawal of men from college have necessitated a considerable reduction in intercollegiate athletics and an increase in intramurals and other types of physical training.

The College had a good football team chiefly of younger men, a team better than the won and loss columns indicate. The schedule of necessity included more teams than usual of the larger conferences.

Maryville won two games: from Hiwassee College of Madisonville 33-0 and 32-13. We lost six games: to Newberry 25-7, to Chattanooga 51-7, to Milligan 19-0, to Tennessee State Teachers 19-12, to Appalachian 20-7, and to Morehead 18-6.

There were no basketball and swimming teams this year, wrestling being given the right of way in the winter season.

The wrestling team, as usual, defeated all comers. Maryville won matches from Appalachian State, University of Tennessee, Georgia Tech and Georgia Pre-Flight. One match was lost to the University of Tennessee.

It was decided to omit varsity baseball and track this spring for the reasons already mentioned and the additional reason that the grounds must be used daily for military drill and calisthenics of the Army Air Crew students, and our physical directors are busy with the special wartime army and college physical training program.

However, there is a tennis team playing a limited schedule and doing very well. It has won all of its matches played so far:

Maryville	6	Sewanee	1
Maryville	5	T. P. I.	2
Maryville	7	Tusculum	0
Maryville	7	Teachers	0
Maryville	7	Milligan	0
Maryville	6	Milligan	1
